

PROFESSIONAL PARTNERSHIPS

In addition to the provision of professional and highly specialised security services K9 Ireland has developed strong working partnerships and links with other service providers, suppliers and agencies across Europe.

These partnerships ensure that K9 Ireland has access to the latest developments in security services as well as the availability to purchase the latest in both new and developing technologies.

Whether your requirements are dedicated GPS canine tracking devices, the latest in 3rd generation night vision technology or personal protection clothing to specific ballistics levels, we have the partnerships and links to provide you with a solution to your requirements.

WEBSITE

Our website is a source of detailed information on the full range of services we provide.

It is regularly updated and contains the most up-to-date information on developments within the company.

In addition to this a secure access panel is currently being developed. This will enable clients of K9 Ireland to gain direct access to a wide range of security related publications and information.

K9 Ireland is a 100% Irish owned and operated company that offers a complete range of cost-effective professional security services to protect your property and assets. Services we provide can be adapted to suit the individual needs of our clients, from simple advice to comprehensive total security solutions.

K9 Ireland was developed and built as a clear response to the evident need for the provision of a high quality security service in Ireland. K9 Ireland provides a most cost-effective way of protecting your assets in a discreet, yet effective manner.

We also take great pride in our extensive recruitment procedures, training and commitment to the continued professional development of our security officers.

K9 Ireland offers a range of services, that in some cases are not available elsewhere in Ireland.

Specialist Canine Services

K9 Ireland was the first Irish company to register with the PSA (Private Security Authority) for the provision of specialist canine security services.

The work of our canine division includes, but is not limited to, the provision of dogs specifically trained for the detection of illegal narcotic substances, munitions, explosives and one specialist unit dedicated to the detection of bodily fluids.

In addition to these highly trained specialist dogs K9 Ireland can also provide general security dogs and handlers to protect your property or secure a specific controlled work zone.

See page 2 for a more detailed description of these services.

Commercial, Retail & Domestic Security

K9 Ireland offers a complete security solution to the commercial, retail and domestic market. We can provide a high visibility presence to protect your commercial or retail property, or if required, a discreet plain clothes officer to blend in with your employees.

In addition we also offer a valuable key holding service for your property.

One of our expanding markets is in the provision of security officers "on-site" in private homes during times of short family absence such as weddings or funerals. This type of crime is an unfortunate indication of current trends.

A more comprehensive description of these services is offered on page 3.

Specialist Canine Services

K9 Ireland is a supplier of specialist drugs and explosives dogs/handler detection services (including arms & ammunition detection) to individuals, business and the public sector.

This service is available twenty four hours a day, seven days a week to protect your premises from illegal narcotic drugs and other substances.

K9 Ireland was established as a response to the clearly evident need for the provision of highly trained, licenced and insured dogs and handlers to the Irish market.

All dogs and handlers are trained to British Home Office standards and we are the only K9 drug detection service in Ireland currently recognised, registered and licensed with the Private Security Authority.

K9 operators have many years of experience in the security field. This combined experience allows K9 Ireland to offer a complete pro-active security solution to match your business needs. Client confidentiality is assured, with our operators working in close collaboration to maximise the prevention of illegal substances on your premises or property.

We supply our services on both a contract and one-off basis. We provide our specialist services throughout Ireland 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and we understand that our clients need a responsive, effective and discreet service.

Whether it be a one-off explosives sweep before a conference or the deployment of drug dogs and handlers to scan concert goers, or a sensitive issue that requires specialist body fluid searches, K9 Ireland has the appropriate management and administration infrastructure to facilitate your requirements.

"Ranger" busy at work.

As a response to ever changing market demands K9 Ireland also provides body fluid dogs for the Irish and European markets as added support for the security sector.

Our dogs are specially trained in the detection of blood, blood plasma, semen etc and provide an added resource in the fight on crime for security teams.

K9 Ireland uses a variety of dog breeds, depending on the requirements of our clients. Dogs currently in use include English Springer Spaniels, Labradors and German Shepherds. Like their human handlers all dogs receive regular training and up-skilling as part of our CPD programme.

EVENT SECURITY

The provision of canine teams (dogs and handlers) can be a highly visible and effective deterrent for event security. Teams can be deployed to prevent the presence of illegal drugs and narcotic substances, sweep for the presence of explosives or simply act as a visual deterrent towards unwanted behaviour by persons under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs.

Security dog and handler patrols provide valuable, efficient, cost-effective protection. One well trained dog and handler can cover the work of three or more security guards, and we can cover very large areas due to the dog's acute sense of smell and hearing abilities, which are invaluable and effective in high-risk situations.

We provide highly trained dogs with uniformed handlers to protect persons, property and premises in a diverse range of circumstances. Our carefully selected dogs have a sound temperament and are trained to meet our demanding standards. All our handlers are in complete control of their dogs at all times. In sites and secure areas where teams are deployed warning notices are provided to inform persons of the presence of our canine teams.

Commercial & Retail Security

In these times of financial uncertainty it appears as if crime statistics may be on the increase. In an article in the Irish Independent on 2nd April, 2009 Ralph Riegel reported: "Recession hit Irish retailers are reeling from a surge in shoplifting with one department store reporting an astonishing 64% rise in arrests over the past year".

K9 Ireland can assist you in the development and implementation of a comprehensive solution for your security requirements.

K9 Ireland have:

- Fully licenced operatives accredited by P.S.A.
- Fully trained and insured personnel.
- Fully recorded monitoring utilising electronic fobs.
- Security officers protected and equipped with man down GPS emergency contact location systems
- All vehicles trackable via GPS communications.

Keyholding & Alarm Response

K9 Ireland is an approved

- Static Guards
- 24 Hour Patrol Service
- Site Monitoring
- Exhibition Security
- Consultancy Service
- Commercial Security

Commercial & Domestic

- Key Holding Services
- Alarm Response
- Keyholding Escort Service
- Home Security Service (for Weddings & Funerals)

contractor for the provision of keyholding services. This service removes the burden of risks associated with clients or their staff undertaking out of hours security cover on your premises.

Upon alarm activation the K9 response centre deploys the nearest available K9 patrol unit to the location of activation. The K9 rapid response team are chosen from experienced officers who are trained in both risk management and health & safety. The deployed K9 unit will then report to our control centre which liaises directly with the client. The response officer will then remain on site until the activation has been dealt with or the emergency services have been called.

Keyholding Escort Service

Our mobile patrol unit can meet a dedicated member of your staff in the event of an alarm activation. The mobile unit will accompany your staff member to check the premises and take any further action required. Our officers are equipped with a "man down" protection system which operates with a GPS locator system to provide active two way communications at all times.

Mobile Patrols

If you require a security presence rather than a dedicated permanent service, our mobile patrol team will monitor your premises at regular intervals during the risk period. Our mobile patrols offer a very cost-effective solution to crime reduction and prevention.

Whether your requirements are retail security, commercial key holding or personal requirements in the event of family weddings or funerals, K9 Ireland has the appropriate personnel, management and the administration structure necessary to meet your requirements. Call us now for a confidential discussion on your requirements.

Man Down Safety System

K9 Ireland is one of the first Irish businesses to provide our patrol officers with the "Man down" protection system.

The "man down" system is a modern GPS communications suite specifically designed to protect our officers when working in risk situations.

24 hour patrol officer protection with instant 2 way communication and highly accurate GPS location

Using GPS satellites our control centre is in constant two way contact with each operative. In addition to this the exact position of each of our officers can be identified to an accuracy of five metres.

Lone Worker Protection

Anybody who works alone, including contractors, self-employed people and employees, are classed as lone workers". As an employer of a lone worker, you have responsibility for their health, safety and welfare during working hours and will be required by section 19 of the Safety, Health & Welfare at Work Act to undertake a risk assessment to determine whether or not an employee may work alone. Lone workers should not be at more risk than other employees.

K9 Ireland can provide you with the necessary monitoring technology to ensure your lone worker employee is protected against potentially unsafe risks and circumstances. Call us for further information on (086) 811 61 60.

Domestic Security

Protecting your home has never been so important.

Unfortunately, during these changing and challenging times home burglaries account for a high percentage of all crime committed in Ireland. The Garda annual report of 2006 indicated that some 22,939 reported burglaries took place during that year.

K9 Ireland provides a range of security services to meet the needs of the home owner. In particular we can provide officers on site, in your home during periods when the house may be particularly vulnerable to robbery, such as family weddings and funerals. We can also provide mobile patrol monitoring on a regular basis when your home may be unoccupied for a specific time period such as your regular Summer holidays. If we can assist in protecting your home then contact us for a discussion.
